FATHER WAKENMAN WILL SPEAK ON CATHOLICISM AT PHIL. CLUB MEETING

Philosophy Club Meets Saturday Evening At Nealley Home In Tustin—Green

Large Turnout Expected As Subject Has Been A Much Mooted One

BULLETIN

That the weekly discussions will be started again this Thursday at 11:20 in room 5 was announced yesterday by Jack Green, discussion leader. The first subject will be, "Did Jesus Really Live?" A review of the background of eJsus is contemplated as well as a study of the accuracy of the early biographers. Everyone is invited.

Two young socialists, Mr. Sheamin and Mr. Goldberg will speak on Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist church in Tustin. The location is on the corner of 2nd and "C" streets.

Father Wakenman of the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church will be the leader of the next weekly meeting of the Philosophy club which will be held Saturday, March 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mr. E. M. Nealley.

"Is there a meaning to life, what is that meaning, and how shall we attain that means?" are the principle questions to be brought out in Father Wakenman's talk. Those present will have a chance to get the viewpoint of a Roman Catholic.

The Philosophy club meets every Saturday night for a discussion of some modern subject or book. The popularity of these meetings is shown by the number that attend each of these meetings.

Plans For Annual Junior Lion Club 'Prom' Considered

In a meeting of the home of Martin Bowman, Junior Lions club members in their meeting Monday laid plans for the annual Junior Lion Prom which will be held sometime during the month of May.

Discussion led to the consideration of possible sites for the dance and the appointment of committees to report at the next meeting. The selection of an orchestra, location of dance, and outline of publicity will be discussed following reports of committees which will work on these problems and outline results of their investigations at the session Monday. Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Bowman.

Those committees appointed were Ray Glesner, orchestra; Edwin Folger, advertising chairman; Robert McFarland, Jim Thompson and Charles Greenleaf, location.

Those members and pledges who attended the meeting were Ed Folger, Paul Wright, Ed Meador, Richard Robbins, Merrill Bauser, Glen Smith, Charles Greenleaf, Bob McFarland, Jack Gould, Marion Brooks, Martin Bowman, Ray Glesner, Bert Wilkins, Bert Winslow, and pledges Glen Adams, James Decker, Harold Spangler, Francis Hall.

Aptitude Test Will Be Given In Room 11 Saturday

All junior college students who have not taken the college aptitude test should report Saturday, March 12, at 8:30 in room 11. The fee is one dollar and must be paid at the auditor's office before taking the test.

The aptitude test is an entrance requirement and must be taken. It has been given twice already this semester.

The aptitude test is merely a check on one's ability; no grade is given. A general knowledge in many fields is required.

Rambouillet Group Bids New Members

Sixteen new members were initiated into the L'Hotel de Rambouillet when that club met at the home of Miss Velma Bishop in Orange, last Thursday night.

The initiation was conducted entirely in the French language, each of the new members having to answer truthfully questions asked of them. Aside from answering questions, however, the boys received a hard "swat" with a flat paddle.

After the initiation, Everard Stovall, a pianist who has won many laurels, played "Scherzo", a composition of Chopin, and then the group as a whole sang the "Marseillaise", the national hymn of France. Fol-

The initiates at the meeting were Helen Bower, Louise Rurup, Hamideh Nabil, Katherine Chapman, Mildred Spicer, Dora Tedford, Irene Ross, Betty Hawk, Corine Lecrivain, Yasuko Endo, Keyoko Saiki, Barbara Rurup, Adam Leko, Edward Meador, and William Hawk.

The club membes present at the initiation were Miss Lella B. Watson, club adviser, Velma Bishop, Joy McPhee, Aileen Adams, May Maag, Ruth Collins, Marie Moog, Mary Mateer, Harry Motley, Everard Stovall, Charles Stehly, Bob Brown, and Emerys White.

Press Club To Meet Tonite; Plan Party

Tonight at 7:30 the Press club meets in the print shop. Chet Ewing, president, announced that the topics to be discussed will be the sale of the student directories and supplements, pins for the club, and a forthcoming party.

The pins, if they are ordered, will be the regular Santa Ana junior college pins, with a quill and pencil guard.

The directories are on sale all this week. This is the last time they will be sold to the students. The price is still 20 and 10 cents.

Women Of College Are Invited To Attend W. A. A. 'Play' Events

Although written invitations to the W. A. A. breakfast and playday next Saturday, March 12, have been extended especially to members of the organization, all women of the junior college are invited. Those who are unable to attend the breakfast are urged to participate in the morning games and swim.

The interclass events including hockey, tennis, archery, will begin at 8:45 and 9 and end by noon. Tennis matches are not restricted to those who have been reporting for practice, but any girl who wishes may participate. Swimming is to be a free for all event, and all who are not in any of the contests may spend the morning in the pool. Sophomores and freshmen hockey teams will clash in decisive games, a culmination of interclass matches of the last two weeks.

The breakfast to be held at the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe, 7:15 a. m. promises to be the most attractive social sponsored by members of the W. A. A. this year. Tickets at 25 cents each may be bought from all cabinet members, Bonnie Kiser, Beth Collar, Mary Jane Dodd, and Eugenia Gire. The sale ends Thursday afternoon.

All preparations for this event have been made, according to Ernestine Wakeham, chairman of the various committees.

Guest Ticket Violations, It Is Alleged, Precipitate Argument

No More Newspapers Will Be Given Out Unless Student Body Ticket Is Shown; Social Commissioner, And Treasurer, Secure Cheaper Rate On Music Box

Due to the fact that several high school students, neither one of the couple of the junior college, were reported in attendance at the Bachelor's Ball, was the cause of much heated discussion at the board meeting on the advisability of issuing guest tickets hereafter. The definite opinion was sounded that under no conditions should tickets be issued to any couple unless one is either a junior college student or an alumni of the institution.

The more drastic measure, of issuing no guests tickets whatsoever, was taken under advisement. Hereafter, it was decided by the board, a more careful consideration of the granting of guest tickets and a more careful supervision of their distribution will be maintained.

It was also decided that, in the future, no more El Dons will be when he urged the publication of dent ticket is shown. This, it is believed, wil straighten out some of the difficulties arising in regard to this situation, as well as to evaluate the associated student ticket.

A report from Miss Elizabeth Palmiter, social commissioner, revealed the fact that Jac Crawford, associated student treasurer, was able to get a cheaper rate on the use of the phonograph for the noon dances, she said.

Walter Wilson was formally appointed to the position of track manager.

Educators Praise Poster Entry Of Miss Ruth Souder

In a letter commending Ruth Souder of the college for her poster submitted in the Journal Nationwide School Printing project, Joy Elmer Morgan and Lyle W. Ashby, director and assistant director of publications of the National Education Association of the United States, have requested 25 more copies of the project which was completed in the local shop.

The poster, which is entitled "Your Afterself", will be placed in bound volumes consisting of posters made by schools of the nation. In commenting on the local students work the directors said, "Please accept our heartiest congratulations on this admirable piece of work in fine printing. Will you also convey to the teacher of printing, and to the student, Ruth Souder, our appreciation of their interest and cooperation."

Dr. Percy R. Davis, superintendent of schools, has requested that Miss Souder make additional copies of the poster for use in the city schools. These will be much larger than those entered in the contest and are to be framed and placed in corridors of both the junior high schools.

U. S. C. To Present "The Royal Family" There Next Friday

Mary Cianfoni and Emil Foust, former Santa Ana high school students, will appear in the forthcoming National Collegiate Players production, "The Royal Family" at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Miss Cianfoni will portray "Gwen Dean" and Foust will play "Herbert Dean" in the play, which will be presented Friday, March 11, at 8:15 p. m. in Bovard auditorium on the Trojan campus.

Santa Ana junior college and high school students will be able to see the play at a special reduced price, according to an announcement from the university's play productions office. Students applying for tickets in blocks of 10 or more through a high school faculty member will be admitted for 50 cents. Arrangements may be made by addressing the Trojan play productions office or the University ticket office on the Southern California campus.

"The Royal Family," written by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, was an outstanding success on New York and Chicago stages, and on the screen. It purports to be an expose of the private life of the famous Barrymore family of actors.

Condition of Howell Unimproved, Report

Catherine Howell, freshman and member of Sisterhood of Spinsters, has been suffering from a nervous breakdown for several weeks. Her condition was considered better last week, but due to a sudden relapse her condition has become serious enough that it has been necessary to send for her mother.

J. C. Directories And Supplements Are Now On Sale

Supplemented by a 14 page addition, the new student directory of 63 pages appeared last Friday. This supplement includes the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all the new students entered in J. C. and also all changes of addresses or phone numbers.

Copies of the supplement may be bought for 10c from any Press club member, or the complete directory can be had for 20c. Directories will be on sale in the hall all this week, but can also be bought from Chester Ewing, Evelyn Green, Jack Lewis, Mr. Flowers, Eugene Stevens, Gene Robb, James Goodfellow, and Mary Mateer.

As there is a limited number of supplements printed, students should buy copies right away, according to Chester Ewing, who, together with Virginia Bishop, and Glover Hendrickson, put out the book this time.

The directory which appeared last semester was the first one ever published in J. C. The suggestion was made by John Sky Dunlap in 1930, when he urge dthe publication of such a book, but for unknown reasons, the idea was not carried out.

The result of the publication is stated by Glover Hendrickson, present editor-in-chief of El Don:

"We broke just even on the student directory last semester. We feel that although we did not make a lot of money, the service rendered the general student body was enough compensation for the labor involved."

Alpha Rho Tau Plan Sketch, Beach Party

Members of Alpha Rho Tau are planning a beach and sketching party combined, for this Saturday, March 12, at Three-arch bay, four miles south of Laguna, The day will be spent in swimming, beach sports, and sketching in oils or water colors.

The members of the art club 26 in number, accompanied by Miss Anna M. Gilles, the club adviser, will leave early in the morning and return in the afternoon. Each member is to bring his own lunch.

No Future Debating Is Meeting Results

As a result of the lack of interest among students, at a recent meeting it was decided that debating will be dropped from extra curricula acivities for the rest of the semester. Next semester a new group of students now studying public speaking under direction of Sheldon M. Hayden, will be prepared for the league again.

Last semester Santa Ana won the debating contest with San Bernardino when they debated "Resolved that United States Industry should adopt Compulsory Insurance". Those actively interested at that time were Lewis Bates, William Salisbury, Martha Spaulding, and Clifford Hannah.

Bill Campbell Has Charge Of The Ticket Sales For Annual Play

That the honorable Governor James Rolph Junior of California may be the principal speaker of Fiesta Day was disclosed recently by George Griffith, chairman of Fiesta Day. Although the matter is still unde rocnsideration by the committee, it is understood that the Governor will be procured if he is available.

Committee chairmen selected include Elizabeth Riniker, and Bob Mrown, hospitality; Duncan Harnois, program; Harry Clayton, construction; Saragrace Frampton, decorations; Katherine Bement, costumes; Katherine Harwood, luncheon; Glover Hendrickson, publicity; Althea Lembke, dinner; Don Smith, entertainment; Glen Smith, campus exhibits; Clayton Kaps, historical exhibits; Elizabeth Palmiter, dance. Horace Scott is adviser of the committee.

Petitions for Don and Dona will probably be taken out on May 2, and the voting will take place a week later, according to Griffith.

Bill Camphell is to be in charge of the ticket sale for the play, "Ladies of the Jury", which will be given in the high school auditorium on Friday, May 13. This annual play, in the evening, completes the Fiesta Day activities.

Last year Harry Carr, Los Angeles Times columnist, was the principal speaker of the day. His talk followed the crowning of the Don and Dona by the Reverend St. John O'Sullivan of the San Juan Capistrano mission.

U. of A. Requests Copies Of El Don

El Don was chosen as one of the representatives in a collection of the best college and junior college newspapers published in the United States, Glover Hendrickson, editor-in-chief, learned today when a letter from W. J. Lemke, Director, Department of Journalism, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, requested several current copies to be placed in the exhibit.

These papers will be on display at the University of Arkansa's Fourth Annual Press meet, to be held this April. This event is one of great interest to all amateur and professional journalists.

El Don was grouped as one of the country's leading publications in the last National Scholastic Press Association contest when it received All-American rating, the highest possible for any college publication.

W. van Haitsma Of Boeing Speaks At Meet Of J. C. Eng.

"General Aviation" was the topic of Walter van Haitsman, a member of the traffic department of the Boeing Aircraft Co. of Oakland California, when he spoke at the last meeting of the J. C. Engineers.

Accompanying the talk he furnished moving pictures which covered the phases in airplane construction and designing.

The club members were especially interested in the pictures of the first planes of the Wright Brothers

During the business part of the meeting Oliver Aufdemberg, club secretary, reported the receiving of a letter from the general secretary of American Association of Engineers in regards to the formation of a junior chapter of American Association of Engineers, but no definite action was taken.

"Prince Of Pilsen" Cast Chosen; Hare, Wardlow In Lead

Mark Hare will lead the cast as Carl Otto, the prince, in the comedy, "The Prince of Pilsen," to be presented by the music classes early in May. Martha Wardlow has the feminine lead as Mrs. Madison Crocker of New York. Tryouts were held last Friday afternoon.

Martin Bowman was chosen for the part of Hans wagner, a Cincinnati brewer. Nellie, his daughter, is to be played by Verna Helm.

Simeon Toelle as Arthur St. John Wilburforce; James Quiggle as a bell boy, Jimmy; Agnes McKinstry as Sidonie, a French maid; Clark Brown as Tom Wagner, a lieutenant; Jean Baldwin as Edith Adams, a vassar girl; Bill McCormack as Francois, a concierge, complete the balance of the cast.

Along with these ten roles, two large choruses, one of women and the other of men, are required. The production, written by Frank Pixley and arranged by Gustav Luders, offers some spectacular group scenes, it is reported.

Bachelor Brotherhood Members Declare Annual Ball Success

"A howling success, both financially and socially," was the way Thomas Cone, social commissioner of the Brotherhood of Bachelors summed up the Seventh Annual Bachelor's Ball held last Saturday night at the Cocoanut Grove of the Breakers Hotel in Long Beach. "Our records show," he continued, "that the ball was a decided success from the financial standpoint, and from the remarks of those attending we are sure that it was by far the most enjoyable social function which our organization has sponsored."

100 couples danced from 9:15 until 12:00 to a program of music arranged and presented by the Southerners under the direction of a former Don, Everett Idlor. Several novelty dances were featured, as were intermission numbers by members of the orchestra.

The program for the evening which the Bachelors presented, started at 7:15 with a banquet in the dinner room of the Breakers Hotel, at which members and their guests were entertained. As honored guests of the occasion were, Al Kluthe, and Bill Crawford, former members of the club. Faculty adviser, Sheldon M. Hayden acted as toastmaster, introducing the speakers and musical numbers which were given. Piano numbers were rendered by Genevieve Wicks and Duncan Harnois, and several vocal numbers were enjoyed. Taking his new position as Grand Exalted Bachelor for the first time, Harry Clayton spoke on his intentions and ambitions for the club under his guidance during the coming semester.

EL DON'S PLATFORM

It is the aim of El Don as the official newspaper of the Santa Ana Junior College Associated Students to—

1—Take an active interest in the welfare of the association and aid in the progress and promotion of the organization's activities.

2—Assist in making the Santa Ana junior college the best educational institution of its kind in California.

3—Promote the most friendly and cooperative relationship possible between students of the school and faculty members.

4—Assist student officials in dispatching their duties by presenting the attitude of students on problems of the association.

5—Offer unbiased, truthful and enterprizing accounts of events on the campus thereby aiding in the promotion of such activities.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Aftermath

There never is, never has been, or never will be, an effect created without a tangible cause. If the current is traced far enough, eventually the source will be found. But, as in the case of a stream, it might be difficult to point out any only source and, with complete assurance label it the only cause.

Such is the case of the student store project, the petition for which was recently withdrawn by the committee behind the movement.

That the students of this institution are in favor of a student store on the campus is evidenced by the fact that in less than four hours, over 450 names were secured on petitions, stating that they wanted a store here. Evidently there must have been some reasons.

When we investigate, we find that among these reasons, there is a matter of convenience, a source of income, a possible saving to the students, a laboratory for salesmanship classes, and the fact that some of the merchants are not supporting our newspapers as they should. We don't say that a student store would have been our salvation, but we do say that it would have put us in a josition where it would have been entirely up to us, our own efforts, whether or not we stayed on top.

Among the reasons advanced by the merchants, on why we should not have a student store on the campus, we find they claim that there is an agreement existing between the merchants and the high school and the junior college that the latter will not negotiate for a student store on the campus. In return, the merchants are to support, through advertising the school papers.

On investigating further, principally from a lengthy epistle presented by the merchants at the board of education meeting, we find that they also claim that it is unethical to operate a student store. In a certain sense that claim is perfectly justifiable.

We can see where it could be classed as unethical to operate in competion with merchants who are forced to pay overhead in their places of business and yet contribute to the support of our newspapers. But we cannot see where it could be classed as unethical to operate a store in competition with those merchants who make a great deal of their living from us and yet who do not help to support our institions.

They say it is not business ethics to operate a store in competition with them.

Granting that they are right, is it business ethics to make an agreement and fail to keep it?

Since, according to their own admission, such an agreement was made; and according to our records, the agreement was not kept, we were, therefore, acting perfectly within our right to try to get permission to start a student store.

In view of these findings, perhaps the students, after all, have a side to their case to present.

To those merchants who have stayed with us and helped us along, we wish to tender our sincerest thanks and apprecia tion. To those others, perhaps the gentleman in charge, who looks after the interests of the merchants and sees to it that they are protected, would do well to see to it that his charges live up to their end of their agreement also.

WELL, THE BACHELOR'S BALL is all over for another year. And I had more fun than I've had in a long time. The crowd was just a little large, but I guess the boys, in charge are not kicking about that. Everett Idlor certainly has a keen orchestra in my opinion. Boy, that syncopating rhythm could keep me on my toes for a long, long time.

NOW, THE NEXT ONE will be the Gauchos. They've done a lot of good service work this semester so far, and are now planning to put on a dance soon. I'm looking forward to it, fellows.

THEN, ALONG IN MAY sometime will be the annual Junior Lions dance. This year it promises to be a wow, I only hope that it lives up to its past reputation. It'll be plenty good, if it can do that.

AND HERE IS THE answer that L. A. J. C. sends about last week's editorial. Clever writer. (see elsewhere on this page.) Which reminds me, I've got to lay off this mill and get thinking about an answer for this boy. More news next week.

L. A. J. C. REPLIES

Editor, "El Don"
Santa Ana Junior College
Santa Ana, California
Dear Sir:

Referring to the editorial appearing in the March 3 issue of "El Don", may I in a purely friendly present our case to clear up, what seems to me, to be a gross misunderstanding of the aims and purposes of a college yearbook.

You judge us on our advertising in our local paper. Every semester we have 1700 new students entering our school who are not "L.A.J.C.-minded" We used this ad. as a means of acquainting them with our book and getting them to purchase copies. The publicity manager intentionally overemphasized; that is was the means of bringing about a misunderstanding is a regretable incident.

We do not publish a yearbook in competition with other schools. We are in a particularly fortunate position, along with Pasadena Junior College, in having a large enrollment. This ensures large student funds and porportionately more for the "Junior Campus". Our aim and purpose is to do the very best we can with the money we have at our disposal. That our best has been the envy of other schools is again regretable.

The cry "Professionalism", in the "Junior Campus" is misrepresenting the case. True we use professional photographers for our portrait work, but then who doesn't? We feel that the effort necessary to secure outside writers of real caliber is greater than the effort in writing them. We shall have 320 pages; of this but two will have authors who are not students at Los Angeles. The art work and the theme were planned by the editor, and the artist and Mr. Hanna of the Auto Club are merely assisting in carrying out these plans. As you may know there is a service available at all engraving houses known as "yearbook service". This consists of taking raw prints, planning, calculating reductions, and mounting the pictures. We do not take advantage of this professional help and at the present time over 15 members of our staff do this work in our editorial offices. Not a schoolboy activity but a collegiate work.

To let you in on an inside secret, the color photography is being donated by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, not an advantage of our superfinances but an achievement of our business manager. The rest of the photography is being handled on the same basis through another business-like arrangement. We are using student photography in the college life section. Not a schoolboy activity but business handled in an intelligent way..

A staff of over 25 people have been working the major part of a year to produce "Junior Campus". That we are forced to publish a bigger book than some of our sister colleges is easily explained, for we must have a large book to take care of our 37 campus clubs, our 4000 students that make up our eight classes a year. Activities for these people must be represented. It is an immense work and no amount of "Professional" help could possibly set down with the same spirit the activities as the staff of the "Junor Campus" is doing. The work is portraying our college--its bigness of Ideal and purpose.

I hope that I have made you think-think with more friendliness of our school, our ideals, our work in the publications department, and our students. I wish for you all the possible success for the "El Don" and the 1932 issue of "Del Ano" and hopes that sometime I may be of some assistance to you.

Sincerely yours,
Richard Hoffman

OVER THE 'PHONE

"Mom, anybody gonna use the front room for a while?"

"No, Jack, but wait till I get the morning paper; I may want to read it within the next hour."

"Thanks, Mom. Gee you're great. You'll close the door, won't you?"

"Surely."

"2378-R, yes please."

"Hello."

"Hi, Dot."

"Wouldn't you feel funny if it had been some one else, Jack?"

"Aw, but I knew it was you." (Long pause, while to tease him, Dot waited for Jack to introduce the next topic.)—"Hey!"

"Yes?" asked Dot hopefully.

"Whatcha doin'? Studyin'?"

"Uh-huh. And I know one little boy that should be if he isn't.."

"Don't scold me, Dot. I don't feel like studying. Say, I got an idea! You come over to my house, and we'll study over here.—Oh, say what were you doing today when you walked away from school with that blonde? Now I'm mad."

"No, you're not, Jack. I wasn't doing anything bad. Say you're not mad please."

"But I have a right to wonder who he was, don't I?"

"Well, I was going to tease you, but I guess I won't this time. It was just the boy that one of my friends goes with, and we were walking over to her house to get her. There, is that all right?"

"You should've told me first, though, Dot. I think you're sorry it wasn't somebody else, aren't you? Bob, or that new good lookin' fellow?"

"Of course I'm not, silly."

"Well, anway, Dot, you sound as if you don't even want to talk to me, and you acted just a little bit funny today—I mean, once you d-didn't look at me just right."

"Is that all? I'm awfully sorry if I didn't look at you 'just right'."

"Don't talk so cross to me, Dot, please."

"All right, Jack, but don't think anything's wrong, 'cause it isn't. You don't, do you?"

"No, I guess—hey! Ouch! Wait—Dot—beat it, Billy;— hold the line just—." (Bang!) "Ha-ha. Dot, I'm sorry. My kid brother always thinks he has to help me talk over the phone. That was just a chair that crashed, not Billy."

"I'm glad, I like Billy."

"I 'spect I better let you go, hadn't I, Dot? Say, if I do, and if you work hard, and if it stops rainin', think you could go to the snow with us next Sunday?"

"Mm, I'll say so, Jack. That'd be fine!"

"Dandy, and you aren't mad, are you Dot?"

"IOf course not. You're not either, are you, Jack?"

"No, no reason to be—I guess."

"All, right, g'bye."

"Just think, it'll be a whole 12 hours till I see yuh, Dot, but—g'bye!"

A LEMON OR LIME

Why is it at a certain time
We drink lemonade or lime?
Why do we hanker for the beach,
Specially when its out of reach;
Why do we wish that bell would ring
So off the pavilion we could spring;
Why do classes just bore us so
That we answer teacher "I don't know."
And when a bathing suit is seen
With much envy we turn green,
And wish and wish and wish that we
Could jump into that blue sea?
Can't you see the answer clear?
The sunny days of spring are here.

SPRING—ROMANCE

In the spring a young man's fancy —but everyone knows the end to that little saying.

The girls are all appearing in spring frocks, the hair is freshly permanented and waved, more care is taken to the appearance, and father is approached as to the wherewithall to buy that darling new lipstick. Stockings are abolished, openwork shoes are prevalent, and spring is ushered in.

The boys have on cleaner cords, the sleeveless sweaters are in, the hair is plastered down with some new stick-um, or politely waved as the case may be.

These signs are serious. They show that thoughts are turning lightly to love. The campus is covered with couples in every available spot, talking with words or with glances, and when the ornery bell rings and they must be separated for almost an hour, tears are practically seen.

Springtime gives birth to many budding romances, it has been doing so down through the ages, and will probably do so on through the coming centuries. That is, unless we come into that predicted age when everyone and everything is ruled by machines, more or less, and who can foretell what will happen then.

Spring fever is usually the start of all the trouble. After mid-semester's are over and a new lease is taken on life, those warm days come, and are gladly welcomed by the practically mildewed students.

Then comes the dash for the beach—maybe a gang gets together, cuts classes, and off they go for a plunge in the cooling surf. A certain lad sees a certain girl. "My, he thinks, I never realized before what a looker she is!"

She thinks—"Gee, why haven't I set a a net for him before."

They got together on the sand, both acquiring a good sunburn, which is supposed to turn to tan.

And another campus romance is in order.

Gentleman (at police station): Could I see the man who was arrested for robbing our house last night?

Desk Sergeant: "This is very irregular. Why do you want to see him?"

Gentleman: "I don't mind telling you. I only want to ask him how he got in the house without waking my wife."

Frosh: "My dad's an Elk, a Lion, a Moose and an Eagle."

Soph: "Gee, what does it cost to see him?"

The Boy Friend: "How long will it be before your sister makes her appearance?"

Little Sister: "She is upstairs making it now."

Roy: "What does a dog think when a tramp throws a stone at him?"

Chester: "I'll bite."

Roy: "Correct."

Students of the junior college will go to Balboa tomorrow for the annual Ditch Day. For the first time in history a program has been planned, and is to be climaxed by free dancing in the Rendezvous ballroom.

Referendum of the smoking question will be put before the Associated Students on March 24. As the rule now stands, students have to cross the center of the street to smoke. It is to be voted whether or not students will be able to smoke in the cars along the campus.

That the entire student body is invited to the Longfellows skating party at the Municipal Roller Skatink Rink in Long Beach next Friday night was learned today from club officials.

Dr. Haridas Muzundar of India, a close friend of Mahatmi Gandhi, spoke yesterday to the Associated Students.

ONCE AND A WHILE

Some dogs are christened in jest, some in earnest, and some with malice aforethought, but the Boojun was christened by inspiration. One evening after her master had contemplated her charms for some minutes, "That dog," he said, "loks like a Boojum." "What does a Boojum look like?" asked a friend. "It looks," he replied, "like that dog."

Long before this the Boojum had had a temporary name, but it was immediately obvious to everyone that the new name was the right one. Softened into "Boojy", it permeated the neighborhood within a week; and this is the more curious in that very few of those who adopted it had ever heard of the historic Boojum, which was also a Shark. They simply recognized the appropriateness of the name immediately, because, as someone said, she is always "boojing about." "To boojie", is another word of inspirational etymology, meaning "to move suddenly, to dart and land with all four feet."

To do her justice, she obeys pretty well, if her mind is not otherwise occupied, and she is loving enough (and by 'enough' is meant as loving as one can estand, for a dog should not be too mushy). She is loving enough when the family have been absent from home for a couple of hours. But she is much more likely to show her joy by standing on he rhead in a corner of the sofa and pushing violently with her hind legs than by trying to lick one's chin. The truth about Boojy is that she really is fond of her owners, but is as a rule too busy to tell them so.

There probably never was a busier dog than she. Undoubtedly she was born with a conviction that it was her destiny to run the universe, but has never discovered that running the universe is a large order for a twelve pound dog. One cannot help admiring the optimism with which she takes up hertasks each new day, never permanently discouraged, never more than momentarily downcanst. Between whiles he spends her time inventing new games when there are callers. For there can be no doubt that she has great deal of what now days is called exhibitionism, or what was called in the old days, before modern psychology discovered so many new words, showing off.

Her first impulse being to let no one enter the house, she slides to the front door on the hall rug, which she rolls up against the wall, emitting ear-splitting shrieks of rage; but the visitors once in, her second impulse is to entertain them, by bringing out her rubber dolls and balls, shaking or tossing them, assuming postures which she knows to be effective—in short, posing to be admirred. In a child such doings would be insupportable, but in a dog, especially a little white dog, with a tail that points straight toward the ceiling, and white whiskers that surround a black button of a nose, like a halo and flare off truculently, they never fail to win applause.

Her master has a sneaking admiration for her indomitable soul. "She's a steamy little cuss, ain't she?" said an aimable Irishman. "It's a grand breed, only you have to kill 'em to train 'em." By the way, the Boojum is a wire-haired fox terrier.

DIAMOND MEN OPEN SEASON WIN TWO WINS

Coach Cook Uses All Men In Three Practice Games, Team Looks Good

Winning two out of three practice games in three days play, Coach "Bill" Cook's Don horsehide artists are just getting their stride, since the opening of the season is still some distance off.

Pitcher Difficulty Ends

Overcoming the difficulty of lack of pitching ability, the work shown by the last few practice games by Milton Hilliard and Earl "Gabby" Newman, as well as other men out for the position, indicates that the present season will show a better record than even that of last season—the best in Don diamond history.

Take H. S. Team

Playing Bill Foote's Saints last Friday evening it appeared for some time that the high school team, with Power in the box, would take the game in a walk-a-way, later on in the game, however, the sudden opening of a hitting spree by the Padres started the game going in a large way. The outcome was 10 for the Padres and 9 for the Saints.

In this game a home-run over the right field fence by Homan was the biggest spectacle offered by the Cookmen while a long hit over the left field fence by Kidder made a homer for the local high school team.

Traveling to Compton Saturday afternoon the tables were turned on the Cookmen as they took a 15 to 1 defeat through many errors and lack of hitting.

Taking another trip Monday night the team went to Long Beach where they took an easy defeat over the Vikings. Shutouts of the Seasiders by Homan time after time is said to have been the reason for the lone hit that they turned in as record for the games. Good hitting by several of the Don players made their score of nine points.

Friday Set As Date When Freshmen And Sophomores Tangle

Postponed several times on account of rain, the interclass track meet is at last going to be run off Friday afternoon, according to an announcement to that effect issued by Coach Coach Bill Cook last week. Jim Daneri will lead his strong frosh squad against Captain Doyle Gilbert's veterans in an attempt to duplicate last year's meet which the frosh won.

Probable entries for the Sophs will be Captain Gilbert in the pole vault, 100 yd. dash, javelin throw, shot put and the discus throw; Tommy Cone in the 880, mile and the 2 mile; Rhodes Finley in the 440, 220 and the 100 yd. dash; Elwood Lindley in the high jump, shot put and the high hurdles; Frank Nagamatsu in the 880; and Art Jacques in the pole vault and the high jump; Overton Fowlkes in the javelin; and Carl Schoenberg in the 440 or the 100 yd. dash; Brick Armstrong willl also be out there breaking records and javelins.

Jim Daneri, Frosh captain, will probably enter the shot put, javelin, low hurdles, discus throw, 440, and the broad jump; Bill Campbell, the 440 and the 880; Ernie Velarde, the 100 yd. dash, broad jump and the low hurdles; Fred Brooks, the low hurdles and the high hurdles; Paul Jungkeit, the pole vault, the broad jump, the high jump and the 100 yd. dash; Merrill Bauer, the 100 yd. dash, the 220 yd. dash, and perhaps the discus; Harlan Traylor, the 440; Martin Lorenzen (provided his pulled muscle is well) will compete in the pole vault and the high jump, and Roswell Berkheimer, the mile or 2 mile.

Doyle Gilbert, Captain of the Don tracksters this year considers the chances of a Sophomore win very good, and he promises to give the Frosh cinder men plenty of cause for worry before the sun goes down Friday. He also urges all men from both classes who are at all interested in track to compete in the Interclass track meet.

Round Robins End On Playday, Sat.

BULLETIN

Instead of the scheduled interclass games, Tustin high is sending two teams to play at 3:45 sharp. The line-up will be Soph vs. Tustin seniors; and Frosh vs. Tustin juniors.

Beginning Monday, February 29, sophomore and freshmen hockey teams have been playing a series of round robins. The finals are scheduled for the playday next Saturday.

In the first of these games the upper classmen won a 3-0 victory in the first line-up, but the second teams tied with a score of 1-1. The first strings made two substitutions, Day for Curl and Harwood for Williams. There were none made for the seconds. On the first team Eugenia Gire made two of the goals, while Eugenia Richards sent the ball over the line for a third score. For the freshmen seconds Francis Curl scored; Florence Cokeley made the goal for the sophomores.

On March 3 the sophomores' first team defeated the frosh 2-5. On the latter Alma McDonald made both goals. Eugenia Gire, Lorna Allen, and Eugenia Richards scored for the upper classmen.

The game last Monday, March 7, had more favorable results for the frosh. Their first team defeated the Sophomores second, 1-0.

DOINGS OF THE DONAS

BY MAY MAAG

Only three more days until the W. A. A. breakfast and play day this Saturday, March 12. If you haven't bought your your ticket you should get it today; the number is limited and you won't want to miss it—it's the most outstanding event sponsored by the W. A. A. this year.

* * *

Those who can't get to the breakfast (It does hurt to get up early Saturday morning, or any other one,) which is scheduled for 7:15 at the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe, are urged to come to the inter class contests here and a swim in the pool.

* * *

Tennis matches are not limited to those girls who have been reporting, but all interested may participate.

* * *

The hockey games will be the culmination of a series between first and second freshy teams and first and second sophomore line-ups during the last two weeks. Sophomores firsts have a lead over their opponents, but the second strings have tied twice. The battle between the latter promises to be exciting Saturday.

* * *

Perhaps the defeat of the freshies last Wednesday was largely due to the absence of three of their best players in the backfield; namely, Edna Kohler, Betty Walker, and Helen Mott. They are sure to make up for lost time at the playday.

* * *

The freshmen firsts gave the sophomore seconds a surprise last Monday afternoon by winning a 1-0 victory. The first sophomore team won a narrow victory from the second frosh of 2-1. According to these scores there should be some lively competition Saturday.

* * *

Tustin high school junior and senior girls are to play the sophomore and freshmen teams tonight. The line-up is Soph vs. Tustin seniors; and Frosh vs. Tustin juniors.

* * *

Tennis fans, here is your opportunity to become the feminine part of the mixed doubles champions of Santa Ana. Lately a great deal of interest has been shown by the men about town in tennis. They decided the other day to hold a mixed doubles tournament on the Willard courts if enough girls show interest. Some interesting competition is promised, according to the latest entry list. Some fine experience and lots of fun is guaranteed.

Remember it is the girls who lack enthusiasm in the matches. I actually heard Randolph Bell, the champion, asking for a partner. There's your chance.

* * *

Fullerton has invited four singles and two double teams to some tennis matches on the courts there. The interscholastic tournament will probably be held after spring vacation.

* * *

Long Beach J. C. has invited the tennis team to a net meet and a tea on March 17, St. Patrick's day. The girls are playing off some matches now to determine who will be Santa Ana's representatives.

Chaffey-Los Angeles In S. Calif. Playoffs

With the Souther California junior college championship title hanging on the out come, Los Angeles and Chaffee junior colleges clash tonight on the neutral court of the Whittier High School in the second of their three game series.

Los Angeles junior college won the first game defeating the Panthers 41-28 last Saturday, and if they succeed in doing it again tonight, they will win the pennant.

For the past 2 years the play-off series has seen Chaffee and Los Angeles battling for the title. In both previous contests Chaffee has emerged victorious.

Los Angeles has gone through their schedule without a defeat. Chaffe has been beaten twice, but won in an elimination staged between Santa Ana, Pomona, Riverside, Fullerton, and themselves, all five teams being tied for first with two defeats apiece.

Mermen Defeated By L. A. Swimmers Before Big Crowd

An estimated crowd of 400 witnessed the defeat of the Santa Ana junior college and high school team last Tuesday night by the strong Los Angeles junior college aggregation. The visitors took 37 points to the Dons 20 points in the races, and the Santa Ana team was at the small end of a 12 to 3 score in the water polo game.

"Bob" Parker, Santa Ana coach, was pleased to note the improvement in the team since their bow to the Long Beach team recently. Much more team work was displayed than before, both offensively and defensively.

One bright spot in the evenings entertainment was the 400 yard relay free style swim which Santa Ana won with a team composed of Beall, DeFaubio, Wilde, and Maxwell. This proved to be the only event in which Santa Ana took first place.

Coach Parker started his water polo team with the lineup of Eldon Bragg and DeFaubio at forward; Harry Clark, at center; Maxwell at sprint; George Bisset and Carl Bower at the guard positions, and Thielan at goal guard. Substitutes were Beal, Proctor, Wilde, Andrews, Winslow, Hodge, and Patrick.

Jason Hodge shared honors with McDonald and Robertson of Los Angeles in an exhibition diving match before the game. The swan, jackknife, and half and full gaynors were illustrated.

Complete results:

220-yard free style—Won by Robertson (LA); Dodge, second; Beall, (SA), third. Time, 1 minute, 50 seconds.

220-yard breast stroke—Won by Varney (LA); DeFaubio, (SA), second; Bennett (LA), third. Time, 3 minutes, 9 1-5 seconds.

100-yard free style—Won by Robertson (LA); Siler, (LA) second; Beall, (SA) third. Time, 1 minute, 6 8-10 seconds.

50-yard free style—Won by Dottle (LA); Maxwell, (SA), second; Yarrington, (SA), third. Time, 26 3-10 seconds.

100-yard back stroke—Won by Schuman (LA); Winslow, (SA), second; Butler, (LA), third. Time, 1 minute, 6 7-10 seconds.

400-yard relay free style—Won by Santa Ana, (Beall, DeFaubio, Wilde and Maxwell); Los Angeles, second. (Losing team wins four points, winning team eight points.) Time, 4 minutes, 39 3-10 seconds.

Total score: Los Angeles, 37; Santa Ana 20. Water polo: Los Angeles 12, Santa Ana 3.

Co-eds Plan Tennis Tea Thursday, 17th

Members of the Long Beach junior College tennis team have invited four players from Santa Ana to an interscholastic match and a tea, Thursday, March 17. A Saint Patrick's theme at the social is anticipated.

The girls who will attend the event have not yet been selected, but play offs being held this week and next will determine the choice.

Santa Ana's tennis players were hostesses to the Long Beach girls during the forepart of the year at a tea in the Y-Hut. The social followed some matches in which the Donas won four out of six.

Investigation Cuts No. Of Grid Deaths

By College News Service

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. At the end of the last season football, stood charged with 43 deaths.

This week the number had been reduced to more than half--21.

Fielding H. Yost, atletic director of the University of Michigan and chairman of the national football rules committee, who investigated each of the reported deaths, declared that he found one of the 43 is still very much alive, that another never existed and that numerous others were chargeable to disease and unrelated infections.

DON TRACKMEN WIN CLOSE VICTORY BY JAVELIN AS FIRST LOCAL MEET ENDS

New Men Show Promise In First Season Trial, Win Boosts Hopes

Winning their first dual meet by one point, Coach Bill Cook's track team kept the spectators in suspense until the last minute Saturday morning when they entertained San Bernardino junior college here on Poly oval. The Dons, trailing 62-51 after 13 of the 15 events had been run off, won the relay and took first and second in the javelin throw to catch up with and just barely top their rival's total.

After the relay had been run off bringing up Santa Ana's score to 56 points, Overton Fowlkes scored the three points which meant victory for the Dons by taking a second in the javelin throw, Jim Daneri adding the other five of the eight points needed to win by placing first in the same event.

Jim Daneri was the "high point" man for the Cookmen by earning 20 1-4 points, the ironman won the shot put, discus and javelin, took second in the 220-yd., low hurdles, third in the broad jump and piled up a nice lead for Santa Ana in the relay. Bauer contributed 6 points to Santa Ana's total, Cone, 3 1-4, Campbell, 4 1-4, Gilbert, 5, Finley, 6 1-4, Fowlkes, 3, Lindley, 6, Jugkeit, 5, and Nagamatsu, 5.

Gilbert Injures Heel

Captain Gilbert, in spite of an injured heel which kept him from competing in his favorite event—the broad jump, took a second in the pole vault, a third in the 100 yd. dash and a third in the shot put. When Doyle's foot gets better he hopes to break the college record of 22 ft. 6 1-4 inches which he established last year.

Rhodes Finley won the 440 yard dash for Santa Ana in 55.2 seconds and promises to develop into an excellent quarter miler before the season is over. Bill Campbell of the Dons took second place, with Bawcombe of San Berdoo following him for a third.

Frank Nagamatsu, another promising trackman, turned in a fine performance by winning the 880 yd. run after only a few days of practice. Crilley of San Bernardino came in second and Tommy Cone placed third.

If Fred Brooks, versatile all-round athlete, can learn to jump over the hurdles instead of knocking them over ,he should become a crack hurdler, for, although he was disqualified in the low hurdles, he covered the 120 yards only 2-10 of a second slower than Fisher of San Berdoo who turned in the fast time of 15.2 seconds to win the event.

Merrill Bauer, by finishing second in both the century and the 220 yd. dash, contributed six points to Santa Ana's total. Elwood Lindley took a second in the high jump with a leap of 5 ft., 11 in., and a second in the shot put, the Dons taking all three places in the latter event.

Paul Jungkeit won the broad jump for Santa Ana with a jump of 21 ft., 2 in., Diese of San Bernardino taking second and Daneri third.

Tommy Cone, while he took only a third in the mile and the 880-yd. run, ran a nice lap in the relay and started the lead which Daneri was able to increase, and which further insured victory for Santa Ana.

Ernie Velarde, high school track star, who entered Santa Ana this semester did not place in any of the events which he entered, but as he has been away from track competition for four years, it will be a few weeks before he can attain the condition and the form which he had in high school.

Tennis Players To Meet Local Club

Due to unforseen conflicts, last week's tennis match with the Anaheim Tennis club had to be called off, but stiff competition is promised this week when the local racket wielders go up against a strong aggregation from the Santa Ana Tennis club on the Willard junior high school courts Saturday afternoon at 2:00.

Sicknesses, injury, and transfers have seriously hampered tennis practice for the past two weeks, but things are now running again as they should, with Bob Kirk, first singles man practically recovered from an attack of flu, and Don Shirey, doubles man, again appearing on the courts after a protracted sickness.

The probable lineup for Saturday's match will be as follows: first singles, Bob Kirk; second singles, Lecil Slaback; third singles, Walter Carruthers; fourth singles, Harry Nissley; first doubles, Dick Evans and Don Shirey; second doubles, Elwood Lindley and Bob Hafer.

The following is the tennis schedule for 1932:

Campus Exchange Tells Of Other College Doings

A desire for statistics furnished the inspiration for all the checking carried on in the Co-operative Store at the San Francisco State Teachers College recently. The Co-op is a popular place, judging from the fact that 3,745 people entered its portals on the day of the check. Some of these were repeats, however. Thirty-three faculty members found just cause for visiting the bookstore and eighteen of them came back one or more times.

The book counter served thirty students while 608 were served at the stationery counter. Checks cashed totaled thirty-eight.

The mail box service at San Francisco State Teachers College is unique and the only known one of its kind among the California colleges. Each student is assigned a mail box free of charge. Student mail boxes serve as a direct system of inter-communication between students, faculty, and office.

An official notices, club announcements and notes are placed in the boxes. The mail boxes, 1,350 in all, flank the wall back of the service counter where someone is always on duty. Notes, announcements and incoming mail are placed in a special slot and are distributed by the attendants to the boxes for which they are intended. On one day 925 students received mail from their boxes and 1,668 notes were put into students' boxes.

Janet Gaynor Named Most Popular By Collegians

Janet Gaynor proved to be the favorite movie actress in a popularity contest conducted in a recent assembly at the Madison college, South Dakota. Out of the 135 ballots cast she received 44. Nancy Carrol was second, and Norma Shearer, third. Charles Farrell was judged the favorite actor while "Buddy" Rogers and Robert Montgomery came next in the race.

To the question "Who is your favorite composer of music?" the answer proved to be Beethoven. Rudy Vallee won second place and Irving Berlin third place.

The largest number of votes for favorite novels went to "The Girl of the Limberlost". "The American Magazine" was the most popular in the ranking of magazines. "McCall's" was second and "Good Housekeeping", third.

For the favorite author of college students 45 were mentioned, Zane Grey won the honors in this division. Kathleen Norris followed closely and Gene Stratton Porter came third.

Date Set For Last Initiation Rites Of Meninas Plebes

Saturday afternoon, March 12, was the date set for the final initiation of the six pledges of the Las Meninas at their regular business meeting held Monday evening at the home of Miss Miriam Samuelson in Tustin. The formal initiation will be held at the home of Miss Rosalind Schilling.

After the business meeting a court was held, and the six pledges were each tried by members who had charges to bring against them. The pledges then had to do forfeits, much fun being provided for the club members.

Miss Samuelson and her co-hostess, Miss Martha Hendricks served fruit jello, cookies and nuts to the following members: Clare Hymer, Esther Romoff, Agnes McKinstry, Catherine Harwood, Neva McDonald, Marian Taylor, Florence Stanley, Lorna Allen, Hazel Hushman, Rosalind Schilling, Eugenia Gire, Priscilla Watson, Bonnie Kizer, Ruth Collins, Verna Helm, Helen Bower. Pledges present were: Joy McKee, Mildred Congdon, Grace Wurster, Norma Wilson, Virginia Golden, Shirley Day, and the Misses Humiston and Decker, advisers to the club.

Orange House Books Special Attractions

A special attraction to Orange county theater goers has been announced this week by C. F. Spaeth, manager of the Orange theater. The entertainment which is scheduled to begin Friday will include the showing of two feature pictures, Chic Sale in "The Expert" and Buck Jones in "Branded" and in addition the presentation of special acts by the Putnam School of Dancing.

The Orange theater is under the new management of Westland theaters inc, which has just opened the Muir and Limer Park theaters in Los Angeles. Admission has been set at the popular price of 25 cents on week days and 35 cents on Sunday.

Jay Walker: "So many people are struck by autos while alighting from street cars."

Street Car Official: "Well, yes, but those people have paid their fares. It's this running over people who are waiting to get on that makes me mad."

Pay Up Appeal Is Made By Tatlers

If more students do not pay their subscription money to the "Tavern Post" this week, only an exceptionally small magazine can be published, stated Mrs. Eleanor Northcross today. The board will not pay its allotted of approximately $30 if the $40 or $45 expected from those who have subscribed is not taken in.

Plans had been made for a large "Post" of from 60 to 70 pages with outstanding hand set letters, but the failure of collegians to respond with their payments has created a critical situation, says Elizabeth Skiles, editor. This money should be paid to Mrs. Hicks in the business office. If everyone was as willing to pay the subscription money as to hand in contributions, there would be no difficulty. The work contributed has been exceptionally good this year, said Miss Skiles.

A great deal of copy has been printed and proof taken, but the work can go no further until the budget is arranged. The art department, under the direction of Goldie Peal, art editor, has not as yet been able to begin the sketches.

English Declared Important Subject

That college student need to study English proved when the alumni of an Eastern university chose it as the most important subject taught in college. Mathematics was chosen second, for utility, and philisophy third, for culture.

The same alumni agreed that the three greatest benefits from a college education are a board intellectual interest, the ability to reason and analyze, and the ability to destinguish important facts from unimportant facts.

German Club Elects Officers At Meeting

Election of officers for the spring semester was the main business of the German club meeting held last Thursday night. Clayton Kaps acted as chairman of the meeting during the election of the new officers.

The students who were chosen for office were Harold Dittmer, president; Gladys Lloyd, vice-president; Kathryn Gorath, secretary; Zelma Smith, treasurer.

According to the officers, plans will be made for semester's beach parties and dinners soon.

Chorus Entertained In Small Gymnasium

Members of the Women's Chorus were hostesses at a party given in honor of the Santa Ana junior college Men's Chorus last Friday evening in the small gymnasium. Announcement of the cast for the Prince of Pilsen was given by Miss Martin, music instructor.

Games were played during the first part of the evening, and this was followed by dancing and card playing, whch furnished the amusement for the remainder of the evening. Refreshments of pie and coffee were served to those present.

Breakfasters Hear Russian Lecturer

Quite a field of discussion has been covered by the Junior College Breakfast club during the last month, it was learned today from the new president, Russel Koons.

The manual followed by the group, which meets for Breakfast every Sunday morning in the banquet hall of the First Methodist church, is called "The Manhood of the Master". The group is presided over by Dean Mc Kee Fisk.

Several weeks ago a speaker on Russia was secured for the group, with an open discussion following. For the past weeks, China and Japan have furnished food for conversation, as well as any question of national or international interest The recently elected officers for the club are president, Russ Koons; vice president, Dick Evans; secretary, Howard Randalls; and treasurer, Roy Wheeler.

April 9 Date Of Gaucho's Dance

"April 9 has been set as the date for the Gaucho Dance, to be held in the new Memorial Hall in Huntington Beach," it was stated today by Jimmie Quiggle, Gaucho in charge of social events.

"In the past," said Quiggle," when a large college dance has been held, it has been difficult to obtain a floor large enough to accomodate those attending without crowding, but the use of the newly erected Memorial Hall in Huntington Beach will overcome this disadvantage, as it will easily accomodate hundreds of people."

Arrangements are now being made for a good orchestra for the occasion, and a program for the evening is being prepared. Several dance contests will be staged, with valuable prizes being as awards for both men and women.

Last Monday night the members of Gauchos were the guests of Lawson Watkins, associate member, at a chicken dinner, given in an empty store building in Tustin.

After the dinner, five new pledges were given second degree initiation ceremonies, and then cards were enjoyed until adjourning time.

The five new pledges are Walter Carruthers, Martin Lorenzen, Ed Cudcorth, George Eilers, and Ed Bragg.

Las Gitanas Make Plans For Dansant

Revealing plans for a tea-dansant Miss Virginia Anthony, pledge mistress of the Las Gitanas reported on the proposed function during an initiation meeting held at the home of Miss Velma Bishop Monday. The dansant as planned by the club will be held for the benefit of the Student Loan fund. No definite date for the affair has yet been set.

Impressive initiation ceremonies were read by the Gitanas officers in dimly lighted rooms and corsages of the club's colors were presented to each of the pledges. The program presented by the new members included piano solos by Ruth Burbridge, a short play "The Meller Drammer", piano solos by Irene Ross and Doris Rimel. Light refreshments were served following the entertainment. The business session was presided over by Miss Lucille Reisch, president of the organization.

Moav Members Give Final Initiation

Four Moav pledges took their formal initiation vows under candle light last Monday night at the home of Helen Wiesseman. The ritual was prepared by Joanna Day last fall.

The initiates were Gertrude Jentges, Eugenia Huddle, Mildred Spicer, and Jeannette Lutz. After the four were received the rest of the evening was spent in informal dancing. Elizabeth Skiles sang a solo, "All For You" by Bertrand Brown. Concluding the program the refreshments of frozen fruti salad, open faced sandwiches and coffee were served on tables colorfully decorated with sweet peas and friesian.

Members who were present were Eleanor Wisner, Ernestine Wakeham, Elizabeth Riniker, Eugenia Huddle, Helen Wiesseman, Edith Bailey, president, Joanna Day, Elizabeth Skiles, Hazel Alton, Miss Jane Egge, Helen Campbell, Althea Lambke, Violet Johnson, and Lucile Crawford.

"Madretta" Will Be Assembly Feature

"Madretta", a colorful one-act romance of the French Creole life on the Mississippi, is the feature for next week's assembly, Tuesday, March 16. This is the second of one-act plays starring Miss Billie deuPree and Edwin Beisel, both experienced actors, to be given here.

Robert deuPree, who is directing the production, will also be seen in the cast. Mr. deuPree also directed "Storm", "The Fool", and several others. Miss deuPree has been secured by arrangement with the Fox Film Corporation.

In yesterday's assembly an entire musical program was presented. Mark Hare, and Hazel Stukey each sang several solos. Dorothy Randall gave two whistling numbers.

Son: "Mother, I want to drop chemistry and take up astronomy."

Mother: "My boy, you will have to have a better excuse than that for staying out nights."

Ladies Of The Jury Cast Will Be Chosen Next Week

Casting for the fiesta play, "Ladies of the Jury", which is to be presented on the evening of May 13, begins next week, according to Ernest Crozier Philips, drama instructor. All selections, as far as possible, wil lbe made from members of the class in play producing and acting.

Mystery and humor are the dominating elements throughout the play. The action centers around the jury members of a murder trial at which a young French woman is tried for the murder of her husband.

The R. K. O. film company has released its version of "Ladies of the Jury", which played here last week. However, the climax and conclusion of that presentation was entirely different from the original text which Mr. Phillips is using.

Brotherhood Starts Work on Auto Park

Work was started yesterday by the Brotherhood of Bachelors on the reparation of a college parking lot across the street from the science building on Parton Street. According to present plans, the lot behind the bungalows will be cleared off, leveled, and sectioned off into parking spaces.

Quite a bit of conjestion has been caused lately by the large number of cars which are driven to the college, with no place for parking them which is at all handy to the school. Due to the request of persons residing near the college, parking is prohibited except adjacent to the school property, thus necessitating the parking of car at the south end of the property, really two blocks from the classes.

The lot will facilitate the parking of several hundred cars in a place easily accessible to the school. According to Tom Cone, Bachelor in charge, the Board of President designated the service to the club last semester, but conditions have been such to prohibit the preparation until this week. He further stated that the lot would be ready to care for cars by the first of next week.

Glen S.: "Don't you think my new suit's quite a fit?"

Don S.: "Fit! It looks more like a convulsion to me."
